

I am totally against digital television copyright protection. I have an old HDTV with only component input. If you think I am going to junk this TV and go out and buy a new one you are crazy. This would be so detrimental to the American public. It is not fair to render existing digital TV's etc. obsolete and useless. No copyright protection !!